COME AN' GET ME

BAW !!

OUT OF MY GARDEN!

MAGAZINE FEATURES

THE NEWS SCIMITAR DAILY COMIC PAGE

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BUNTY'S MEDICINE

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BUNTY'S MEDICINE.

(Copyright, 1919, by McCure News, paper Syndicate)

By HOWARD R. GARIS.

"Oh. Raby Bunty! Baby Burty: called Nurse Jane Puzzy Wuzzy, to the littler abbit girl, who had been found in a hollow stumm by Incle Wiggily here quietely" called the musicant always and Nurse Jane with line wonds to dis up some saason, which was the control of the musicant always and his pink nose with the wonds to dis up some saason, which was the comment of the property of the control of the property of the control of the property of the pro

WHO'S TO BLAME

ETHEL LLOYD PATTERSON.

The girl who tells a man she "has no head for figures," might just as well say, "I'm sorry, but I probably will make you a very bad wife, because one of the most important parts of my brain is missing,"

CHAPTER NO. 87.

A Head for Figures.

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

For a few momeuts Freddie stared at the papers that Estreida had thrown helter-skelter into his lap. Some of them had fallen between his knees and were littering the floor. From the rug they flaunted their horrid message: "Lighenking, butcher: "Weyman & Co, news dealers." "Pullman Bros. hakers," and so on and so on. The sight daned Freddie. Finally he managed to raise his appalled glance to his young wife.

"You don't mean," he said, slowly and huskily. "that we owe all these people—money?"

She was on the defensive. She had felt instinctively for weeks that this scene—or something like it—would have to come. She had as instinctively decided that the best course for her was to brazen it through So now:

"What would we owe them, my love," she suggested, flippantly, "if it wasn't money? Allegiance?"

Freddie almost groaned.

"But the money—the money I gave you," he said. "What did you do with it? Oh, Estreida—surely you realized it was the money to pay our bills!"

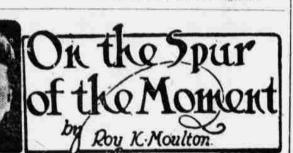

"Well—I didn't! said she. "You've given me so little I never noticed I lad it. Cool Lord—I've hardly had enough for my lunch. And the tea bills."

"You'll have to tackle them—together."

"No, Freddie to very slowly.

"Maybe so and maybe not," retorted Fatcida. "I certainly haven!" been sting almost thirty-five, "land almost thirty-five," said Freddie, very slowly.

"Maybe so and maybe not," retorted Estredia. "I certainly haven!" been sting almost thirty-five, "land almost thirty-five dolars a seach week all these you thirty-five dolars a week doesn't pay the planting years to fail almost thirty-five dolars a week doesn't pay the other day. And as a fred to have But even so, i can just tell you thirty-five dolars a week doesn't pa

A LITTLE SLICE O' LIFE. We all had it in our minds To do something to our clock The other morning, Just as the government ordered There seemed to be a difference Of opinion in the family Whether "turning it ahead" Meant to chop off an hour Or to add one. Some favored turning the hands One hour to the good. Others Wanted to stop the clock For an hour and then start it 1 sat up until 2 o'clock. Like a genuine patriot, And pushed the hour hand One hour ahead. didn't know the wife had Advanced it an hour before She went to bed. So I don't know Whether I sat up until 1 o'clock Or 3 o'clock or half past 2. The next morning the boy Got up early and shoved it ahead An hour and went back to bed. When the maid rose to get breakfast She advanced it an hour, So we had breakfast either At 4 a.m. or 10 a.m. We don't know which, to this day All we do know is that We haven't caught a train since And our clock has been turned Back and forth so much That it has gone Bolshevik And knows no law.

An enterprising Pennsylvania auctioneer combines bereavement and business in the Danville Morning News of Feb. 26:

Beautiful location—Valuable meadow and creek and spring—(100) peach trees—Three acres woodland—New home and barn—Two acres winter grain, adapted for poultry Hone and barn—I we acres white grain, adapted for poultry—Honey bees—Fruit—Greenhouses and choice gardens—(3) fine cows, (4) hogs, (40) chickens (10) bushels oats, (40) corn, (10) potatoes—hay, straw—(20) acres ($1,300) everything ($1,500). Husband dead there loss (your gain).

St. Louis preacher says "damn" is not blasphemy, but it always unds like blasphemy when a preacher uses it.

Bringing Up Father-By George McManus

LITTLE MARY MIXUP-It's a Poor Fence That Won't Work Both Ways!

THE BIG LITTLE FAMILY—May's Life History Repeats Itself!

JOE'S CAR-Joe May Possibly Have to Shoot Pool All Night!

Mrs. Wilson Woodrow's Article

BY MRS. WILSON WOODROW, The world-famous writer on vital subjects.

A girl wrote me a letter telling me of a queer little experience she had. She said that a friend had given her the little group of figurines called "The Monkeys of Nippon." One monkey holds it paws over its eyes, the next is covering its ears, and the third its roouth, thus silently admonishing the leholder "To see no evil, hear no evil ind speak no evil."

The girl was however, that she could: whenever she saw an unpleasant thing she immediately looked about for some bit of beauty, when she heard something depressing she strained her

She said that a friend had given her the little group of figurines called "The Monkeys of Nippon." One monkey holds it paws over its eyes, the next is covering its ears, and the third its covering its ears, and the series its covering its ears, and the third its covering its ears, and the ears and early to so the death of the countered the indicators in her had about the hind in the third its covering its ears and unlike the thind in the coll of the countered the most average in this is evidently a persecuring the properties who had adventured in coll the coll of th

Her brothers had aiready tried to gain them, but had never returned from the quest. Nevertheless, she determined to succeed where they and so many others had failed. So she used her brains before she set out on her journey, which fact showed her to be a very wise young woman indeed. She first endeavored to learn all she could about the hindrances in her path. These, she learned, were goblins that would try to frighten her until she ran to safety, and voices that would seek to allure her and cause her to linger too long upon the road. But being a young person of resource as well as courage, she stuffed her ears with cotton to shut out the beguiling voices, and refused even to look at the menacing shapes that barred her way.

The result was that she found the

A Line On Men You Read About

Harry G. Hawker, of the British air force, who will pilot the British Sopwith two-seater in England's attempt to be the first to make the flight across

Atlantic ocean, is a pioneer in aviation. Hawker was one of the aviators to train the British air forces throughout CHICAGO. May 5.—The first carlead of Arkansas strawberries this season arrived here today. Tennessee betries are also making their appearance in quantity.

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, MAY 7, 1979. (Copyright, 1919, by the McClure News paper Syndicate.)

flicting, according to astrology. While Mercury and Venus are in benefic as-pect, Mars and Saturn are adverse. It should be a lucky day for publici-ty of all sorts and especially for the advertising of theaters and theatrical attractions.

of the aviators train the British air forces throughout the late war. In June, 1915, he broke the British altitude record by rising to a height of 20,000 feet in an hour and a half.

Hawker will start his flight from St. Johns. Newfoundland. He recently said his machine was capable of about 25 hours at 100 miles an hour. It has already flown hours and five minutes on one-third of the gasoline in its tanks, and this was half the distance between Newfoundland and Ireland.

The aviator is an Australian.

The aviator is an Australian.

A TOPPRIES MOVING.

The stream attractions.

Motton pictures come under a direction making for changes that will be of great benefit.

Writers should make the best of this government of the stars, which makes for insight and dramatic power.

Gain to a newspaper through something that is connected with the army is indicated and this is interpreted as a sensational revelation which will be made to congress.

This should be a fairly fortunate day for weddings, especially if the bride groom is an author or journalist.

The aviator is an Australian.

The aviator is an Australian.

The aviator structions.

Motton pictures come under a direction which will be of great benefit.

Writers should make the best of this government of the stars, which makes for insight and dramatic power.

Gain to a newspaper through something that is connected with the army is indicated and this is interpreted as a sensational revelation which will be made to congress.

This should be a fairly fortunate day for weddings, especially if the bride groom is an author or journalist.

The aviator is an author or journalist.

Saturn ruling the tenth house is he to indicate illness among hoth men a women in high place. An epidemic maffect many next summer.

Uranus is in an aspect denoting stem of the army next summer.

Saturn ruling the tenth house is held to indicate illness among both men and women in high place. An epidemic may affect many next summer.

Uranus is in an aspect denoting sudden changes and difficulties in legislation. Congress comes unrer a sway that will make for much discussion of reforms.

reforms.

While extravagance may be imputed to state and federal administration of finances, the planets indicate that individuals will be inclined to reckless personal expenditures.

Mysterious crimes in Ireland are foreshadowed, and these will take place before the summer is far advanced.

Plottings in the United States may multiply, for the stars presage agitation on the part of secret agents from three countries.

Asia Minor and Persia will be disturbed by insurrections that will be far-reaching in their effect, astrologers announce.

arreaching in their effect, astrongers announce.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have an anxious year in business. The family will be happy. The health may be unsatisfactory.

Children born on this day are likely to be clever, intelligent and srtistic. These subjects of Taurus usually are impuisive and inclined to be rash.

UP FROM THE SOIL.

tional War Garden Commissio Washington, so plant a garden,